Jute exports stall as India imposes antidumping duty The number of trucks carrying jute and jute goods into India through the Benapole land port sharply declined after New Delhi imposed a high antidumping duty on the imports of the goods from Bangladesh. India on January 5 slapped the antidumping duty on imports of jute and jute goods from Bangladesh and Nepal to "protect the domestic industry". For Bangladesh, the duty ranges between $19 and $352 per tonne. Only 10 trucks of jute goods have been exported through the port in the last five days while about 150 trucks used to enter India a day, prior to the imposition of duty, according to Shamsul Haque, assistant revenue officer at the customs cargo section of the port.
